BEING A RESPONSIBLE PET OWNER

To ensure that you become the best pet owner you can be it is important to keep the following in mind:

Dental Health

Your pet's dental health is a very important part of his/her overall health and can often cause, or be caused by, other health problems. Just as you need your yearly dental check-up so does your pet. If your pet has bad breath, broken/loose teeth, tarter, swelling, or any other issues with their mouth it is important to get their teeth checked sooner. If you have any questions or concerns about your pet's dental health call your veterinarian.

Spay or Neuter

By spaying or neutering your pet, you are helping control the homeless pet crisis which results in millions of animals being euthanized every year because there aren't enough homes for all of them. There are also medical and behavioral benefits to spaying and neutering. Spaying/neutering your pet is also more cost effective than having to care for a litter.

Vaccinate and Microchip

It's extremely important to keep your pet up to date on their vaccines. If your pet even comes in contact with another animal that is sick, then they will be less likely to become sick themselves if they are up to date. Collars and tags can often come off or the animal can slip out, but with the extra security of having the pet microchipped, it is more likely that the owner can be found and the pet can go back home.

Please feel free to contact the Lake Worth Animal Shelter for additional information 817-238-8739.

Community Outreach Program

Tornadoes, lightning, floods, rip currents and early season heat - spring is three months of danger that can imperil the unprepared. It roars in like a lion, rampaging across the United States throughout March, April and May. And there's one hazard that can strike the coasts at any time: tsunamis.

Spring hazards include:

- Severe Weather/Tornadoes
- Floods
- Lightning
- Tsunamis
- Rip Currents/Beach Hazards
- Heat

Nobody knows the hazards of this dynamic season more than NOAA's National Weather Service (NWS). We ask that you get weather-ready for spring with just a few simple steps:

1. Know Your Risk Check weather.gov every morning. It is a simple action that will ensure that you're ready for the day's weather. Don't leave home without knowing the forecast.

2. Take Action! Assemble an emergency supplies kit with 72 hours' worth of food and water. In an emergency (such as after a tornado or some other hazard event), you may be stuck at home without electricity for three days or more. Make sure that you're prepared. Also, ensure that everyone in your life knows how to stay in touch with an emergency communication plan. This plan lists meeting places and alternate ways of communicating in case of emergency.

3. Be A Force of Nature Inspire others by sharing your weather-ready story on social media with the hashtag #SpringSafety. It can be as simple as posting a photo of your emergency supplies kit or letting your friends know how to reach you during an emergency. Together, we can build a Weather-Ready Nation, one that is ready for any extreme weather, water, or climate event.

SPRING HAZARDS

You are not powerless in the face of extreme weather and water events. Learn about the hazards most common to spring and some that are threats year-round and what you can do about them.

Community Outreach Program

The City of Lake Worth Police Department has created a Community Outreach Program to educate our community on social issues that may exist or arise. The Community Outreach Program works to build relationships and safer communities by providing information and addressing concerns. Our hope is that we come together through programs and services such as:

- Identity Theft
- Fire/Home Safety
- Active Shooter
- Mosquito/Disease Control
- Human Trafficking

We will provide educational material and have a question/answer segment during each course. We welcome suggestions for upcoming topics and will develop a course that will be beneficial for all involved.

WE NEED YOUR HELP! Without your participation and attendance we do not have a program! Please help us get the word out and build this program for our community. Bring a friend or neighbor and make it a great evening.
